

Bio Regina Griggs
Executive Director of PFOX
(Parents and Friends of Ex-gays and Gays)

Regina is a parent of both homosexual and heterosexual children, she felt called to grow a national organization to provide support to families and friends whose lives had been touched by homosexuality. PFOX believes it is important for parents and friends to maintain our beliefs and values while loving all of our children unconditionally.

PFOX seeks equal access to our nation's schools to provide information and resources so that facts not fiction about sexual orientation are taught in our schools. Homosexuality is not innate, no gay gene or DNA has been found for homosexuality, homosexuality is self declared. There is hope and help for those with unwanted same sex attractions. PFOX works to educate the public about the ex-gay community and defends the rights of children to receive accurate information about ex-gays.
